Workshop Presented

IPR Research Assistant Stata Workshop

2006-2007

Co-wrote with Eugene Orlov and presented a workshop in the use of STATA Statistical Software to the undergraduate research assistants employed by the Institute for Public Research in June 2006.

I presented a significantly updated version of that workshop for the same group in June 2007.

Organized Lecture Series

MPES Summer Colloquium

2006-2007

Organized, promoted, and hosted a series of seminar talks given by other MPES fellows during the summer of 2006, and again for this most recent summer.

Appointments, Northwestern University

Research Assistant

Fall 2007 to Present

Current project with Emma Adam and Thom McDade examines the interplay between socioeconomic status and stress using the National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health. Conducted training sessions in use of statistical software; built applications for data extraction; collaborated on model development.

MPES Fellow

Winter 2005 to Summer 2007

The Multi-Disciplinary Program in Education Sciences is a multi-department five-year initiative at Northwestern to train researchers with agendas related to education. As a Fellow, I am involved in a research apprenticeship directed by Christopher Taber, and I take additional courses in departments outside of the Economics department.

Editorial Assistant

Summer 2005 to Winter 2006

Assisted with the updating of text and tables in the seventh edition of Jonathan Hughes & Louis P. Cain, American Economic History.

Teaching Assistant in Economics

Fall 2003 to Fall 2004

Preparation and presentation of lectures given during TA discussion sections, supervision of group work, writing and grading of tests and quizzes, preparing and grading the final exam for the course. For some of the courses it was also necessary for me to create my own lecture notes, worksheets, and labs.
